How we support UK food supply chains

The Agricultural Industries Confederation (AIC) represents businesses in five major sectors within the supply chains that feed the nation.

We represent the businesses that supply UK farmers with the animal feed, fertiliser, seed, crop protection products and advice services that are essential to producing food, along with companies which trade crops and agricultural commodities globally.

We are a recognised, knowledgeable and trusted partner for governments, ministers, politicians across all parties, and civil servants. We work with stakeholders and help shape policy to create a productive, competitive, and sustainable future for our nation's food supply.

AIC is a UK-wide voice for the businesses providing the products, services and trade assurance schemes that are vital for the safe and secure supply of our country's food, drink, and animal feed.

We forge collaborative working relationships with policymakers across Holyrood, the Senedd, Stormont, and Westminster. Our policy team works constructively with other trade bodies and organisations representing the entire UK food system - from pre-farm suppliers and farmers, to processors and retailers.

We are active members of influential European trade associations, and closely follow European and international policy issues. AIC sits on the Boards of the following EU associations. We also work closely with organisations around the world.

Coceral - the European association of trade in cereals, oilseeds, rice, pulses, olive oil, oils and fats, animal feed and agricultural supply

EFBA - the European Fertilizer Blenders Association representing businesses that produce compound blended fertilisers

Euroseeds - representing European seed sector businesses that research, breed, produce and market agricultural, horticultural and ornamental plant seeds

FEFAC - the European Feed Manufacturers Federation representing the compound feed & premix industry
